Tutoring Experience

Over the past seven years, I've devoted myself to one-on-one tutoring, refining my skills across a range of subjects such as English academic writing, Economics, and Social Sciences.

Moreover, I specialize in providing comprehensive guidance for Oxbridge application preparation, drawing from my extensive understanding of the admissions process and its nuances. Whether it's assisting students in sharpening their English writing abilities, dissecting intricate economic theories, unraveling complex social science concepts, or guiding them through the intricacies of Oxbridge applications, my commitment lies in offering personalized support.

My aim is to empower students to not only meet but exceed their academic aspirations, equipping them with the tools and knowledge needed to thrive in their educational pursuits.

Tutoring Approach

I believe in dialogue and building on my students' existing strengths and motivations.

No two students are alike, so neither can my approach to them. Therefore, I will try to get to know you and will always welcome your questions and feedback. In orientation and application advising, this means understanding what motivates you, your strengths, and your expectations. It also involves understanding your environment's expectations and helping you navigate them. In academic writing, this starts with learning about the essays or compositions you have written so far. This helps me understand what comes easily to you and what challenges you may face. In each session, I will ask you to produce an argument, and I will provide detailed written and oral feedback to maximize your learning from each essay.

Additionally, I will consider your workload and stress levels. If necessary, I will provide motivation, set deadlines, and monitor your progress. For those facing excessive stress, I will assist in calming down, prioritizing tasks, and setting boundaries.
