

Ksenia ★★★★★ Reviews

Hire a tutor

 University of Economics, Krakow: Master's in Economics

Hello! I'm Ksenia from the historical city of Krakow. Merging my passion for history and economics, I guide students through the maze of past events and economic theories. A graduate from the University of Economics in Krakow, I relate abstract concepts to today's world, ensuring understanding and interest.

Teaches: History Economics

Curriculum: IB

Qualifications

University of Economics, Krakow: Master's in Economics with a Minor in European History (2012-2017)

Jagiellonian University: B.A. in History (2017-2019)
Certificate in Advanced Teaching Methods (2020)

Vetted Tutor

Personally Interviewed

Our tutors go through a rigorous selection process, having been interviewed to assess their teaching skills and subject knowledge. They have extensive tutoring experience with a track record of success, helping students achieve their academic goals.

Tutoring Experience

Over six years, I've successfully tutored numerous students in both history and economics. I've worked closely with IB and AP programs, ensuring that my students excel in their coursework and exams. My history lessons are infused with stories and intricate details that transport students back in time. In economics, I frequently draw upon current events and historical precedents to elucidate complex principles, making the subject come alive.

Tutoring Approach

My method is rooted in the belief that students best grasp abstract theories when they can relate them to tangible examples. In history, I weave narratives and use various resources like maps, artifacts, and documentaries. For economics, I frequently turn to contemporary events or historical incidents as case studies. This not only enhances comprehension but also instills a sense of curiosity and appreciation for the subjects.