PGCE Qualified Teacher | Examiner | DPhil History

I'm a caring tutor with lots of knowledge, helping students think deeply with lessons made just for them. I studied Anthropology at Oxford and History and Social Science for teaching. I've taught at different schools and grew up in Hong Kong, so I know about the world. Right now, I teach history and politics at a London school and also help test papers for Pearson Edexcel and Cambridge IGCSE.

Personally Interviewed

Our tutors go through a rigorous selection process, having been interviewed to assess their teaching skills and subject knowledge. They have extensive tutoring experience with a track record of success, helping students achieve their academic goals.

Tutoring Experience

In my role as a tutor and teacher, I bring a wealth of experience across a diverse range of subjects. With a strong background in History, Politics, and International Relations, I provide tailored instruction to my students, drawing from my extensive engagement with various exam boards and academic research. My approach ensures that students not only grasp a wide spectrum of historical topics but also excel in different examination formats.

In Anthropology, my expertise shines through my PhD from the University of Oxford, focusing on museum ethnography and material culture. Through interactive lessons, I strive to deepen students' understanding of anthropological concepts and methodologies, offering insights garnered from my own research and academic journey.

As a native Chinese speaker, I leverage my language skills to tutor students for HSK and local examinations in the UK. My lessons are designed to be engaging and interactive, incorporating multimedia resources and real-life scenarios to facilitate language acquisition and retention. I also adapt my teaching methods to suit individual learning styles, ensuring each student has ample opportunities for practice and feedback to master the language.

Furthermore, I offer mentorship to students navigating university admissions, particularly those aspiring to prestigious institutions like Oxbridge. I provide guidance on interview techniques and help refine personal statements to showcase each student's strengths. Additionally, I coach KS2 students for 11+ entrance examinations, covering verbal and non-verbal reasoning, drawing from my experience serving on admission panels to ensure they are well-prepared for the challenges ahead.

Tutoring Approach

My tutoring approach prioritises creativity while catering to diverse learning needs. With compassion, I cultivate independent study skills and pinpoint essential exam content.

By fostering creativity, we spark curiosity and engagement, ensuring a dynamic learning experience. Tailoring sessions to accommodate diverse learning styles guarantees that every student thrives. We place a strong emphasis on exam skills, bolstering confidence and success.

Through compassionate guidance, we cultivate resilience and motivation, empowering students to excel academically while developing essential lifelong learning skills. With my excellent academic background including an Oxford doctorate, and experience as a classroom teacher and Pearson & Cambridge examiner, you can count on me to deliver the best tutorials to students.
