Tutoring Experience

For over a decade, I've guided students in Lisbon and internationally online. My background in both Maths and Physics allows me to bring a holistic approach, especially beneficial for IB students. With the added advantage of multilingual teaching, I've successfully helped students from diverse backgrounds to grasp complex concepts.

Tutoring Approach

Teaching, for me, is more than conveying facts. It's about building a foundation and igniting curiosity. Every student is unique; hence, I tailor my lessons to fit individual needs. By incorporating real-life examples, especially from various cultures due to my multilingual advantage, I make topics relatable. Patience and persistence guide my approach, ensuring every student not only understands but thrives.
