Tutoring Experience

I've taught in many different schools and organizations, learning how to help students with all kinds of needs. At St Catherine's British School in Athens, Greece, I've been teaching English and other subjects since 2015. I also taught English to adults at Adult Education of Bexley, helping them get ready for Cambridge English exams, from 2012 to 2015.

At Bexley Grammar School, I taught English to students of all ages, even those in the IB program, from 2013 to 2014. Before that, I taught English at Champion School Athens and helped students get ready for exams like the IGCSE. I've also worked at Plumstead Manor Girls School, St. Ursula's Convent School, and Hurstmere School, teaching English to students of different ages and abilities.

Besides schools, I've also taught English in different ways, like using drama and theater at Rose Bruford College and helping adults with literacy and English at Adult Education College for Bexley. I've even supported children with special needs at Childeric Primary School. I've also taught English to students from all over the world at Concorde International Summer School. At Agnes Katsianos School, I helped students prepare for exams like the Cambridge First Certificate. Throughout my career, I've always been passionate about helping students succeed in their studies and feel confident in their abilities.

Tutoring Approach

The most important thing for me is to make sure everyone feels welcome and supported in my lessons.

I want students to feel like they can be themselves and ask questions without worrying.

Building a good relationship with my students is key to us learning together.
